

Tim Faherty
Vice President, Specialties

Responsibilities and Areas of Expertise

As vice president of the Specialties Division, Tim oversees the bidding, estimating, property development, and installation of specialties projects. He joined the company in 1980 and worked as a driver and laborer while attending college. After 27 years Tim has worked in almost every CSI division, and is able to deliver extraordinary knowledge and expertise to his clients and specialties projects.

Having completed over 4,000 specialties installations, CSI has seen nearly every issue that may arise. Tim's attention to detail and the development of effective organizational systems have been instrumental in ensuring the most complicated projects are completed efficiently and to the customer's satisfaction.

Over the years, Tim has expanded the product line at CSI and he has secured exclusive distributor, sales and installation capabilities from some of the finest manufacturers, most recently Haworth raised flooring systems.
