Central Ohio AGC JD Flaherty, Jr. Scholarship Awarded for Seventh Year

Alan E. Beeba Receives Scholarship in Pursuit of Construction Management Degree After 18-Year Exploration

COLUMBUS, Ohio – September 25, 2009 – The Central Ohio Chapter of Associated General Contractors (AGC) of Ohio recently announced the selection of Alan E. Beeba to receive the Central Ohio AGC JD Flaherty, Jr. Construction Systems Inc. Scholarship. Beeba is a senior at The Ohio State University pursuing a degree in Construction Management.

“Beeba is clearly an extraordinary individual who after 18 years has found his calling in construction management,” explained JD Flaherty, Jr., President of Construction Systems Inc..

Beeba decided to pursue a career in construction after obtaining a job renovating foreclosed homes for HUD. Beeba hopes to pursue a construction management position where his contributions will have made an impact on protecting the environment. “The natural flow of the land should be preserved and structures should enhance nature,” continued Beeba.

The scholarship was named in 2002 by the AGC Board of Trustees to honor JD Flaherty Jr. and Construction Systems Inc. for establishing the Central Ohio AGC Scholarship Program. Applications are submitted and reviewed annually by a panel of construction professionals and selected based on their cumulative grade point average, work experience, extra-curricular activities, achievements, financial need and an essay relating to goals, career influence and impact on the construction industry.
